Town Topics

George townersDine a la 1800

By Marie McNair

MORE THAN 160 years ago the first stage coach rumbled to "The Sign of rumbled to "The Sign of the Indian King" in historic Georgetown.

Now the old tavern, remodeled and mod-ernized, is Georgetown's first private club organ-ized by 30 Georgetown ers as charter members into the City Tavern.

Mrs. McNair

Last night, there was a gala levee to reopen the tavern with members of the Board of Governors of the City Tavern Association hosts to members.

This evening there will be a repeat party when members will be allowed to bring guests.

Yesterday, the doors of the City Tavern were closed after lunch to get ready for the 10:30 opening.

DINNER PARTIES - and there were dozens of themwere given in neighboring Georgetown homes. Mrs. Thurmond Chatham was hostess at her residence, Prospect House, just a walk down the hill to the City Tavern.

Tavern. In her group were Rep. and Mrs. Clark Thompson, former Ambassador and Mrs. Myron Cowen, Mrs. Robert R. McCormick, Jack and Polly Logan, Joseph Hasek, Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Walsh. The Edward Burlings had a large party including former Secretary of State and Mrs. Dean Acheson, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Fisher—she's chairman of the forthcom-inf International Ball; Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ching, Dr. and Mrs. Cyrus Ching, Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Glenn, Mrs. David Ginsburg — her husband joined the group at the Tavern; Bob Baker and Adele Pew, Mrs. Carley Dawson, Kay Halle, Betty Beale, Henry Jenkins, Col. George Doole, Bill Greenough and William Dew of ough and William Dew of Middleburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D.

Mr. and Mrs. Drew Pearson, Deputy to the Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Herbert Klotz, Mrs. Frank Wisner! Mrs. Oates Leiter, Mrs. Lauriston Hardin, Betty Burton, Eugene Roberts, Edward Weintal, Dr. Harvey, Pope Harbert Morillet and STATINTL

Poe, Herbert Merillat and William Taylor.

John Colle, president of the club, and H. Alexander Smith Jr., a club founder, were joint hosts at dinner, Their guests invested and the club. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. David E. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin', Thoron, Dr. and Mrs. Paul,
Magnuson, Mr. and Mrs.
William Moorhead, Mrs.,
Tucker McEvoy, and
Clement Conger.
Capt. Peter Belin hadformer Ambassador and

Mrs. George V. Allen among guests at his dinner party, and in a group entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Barnes were Assistant Sec-retary of Defense and Mrs. Paul Nitze, Mr. and Mrs. H. Gates Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Fitzgerald, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Watts and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parrott.

There were no minuets last night. Instead the Great Hall, once a warehouse, was filled with music played by Meyer Davis and his orchestra from New York. Upstairs in the yellow flowered chintz "Long Room," the chintz "Long Room," the original ballroom of the tavern, where a late supper was served last night, President John Adams was entertained at a banquet by Georgetown citizens. That was in the year 1800 and he came to see about the transfer of the Capital from Philadelphia to Washington.

DINNER AT EIGHT

The Ambassador of Jordan and Mrs. Yusuf Haikal, who are leaving next month for Paris, entertained at dinner last night for the U.S. Ambassador to Jordan, William B. Macomber, who is here for consultations.

Guests were talking about the forthcoming visit of Crown Prince Hasan al-Rida of Libya on Oct. 16.

Guests included the Mo-

CPYRGHT